

Rifle Field Training Exercise (FTX)

Rifle Field Training Exercise

The Rifle FTX provides the law enforcement officer an opportunity to practice with their patrol rifles and carbines on courses of fire that are practical, realistic, and mirror conditions officers are likely to encounter on the street. Only rifles of .223/5.56m/m caliber or any handgun caliber carbine will be permitted on the range.

No rifles over .223/5.56m/m caliber.

Course One

The 75-yard A Range is a course of fire for semi-automatic rifles and carbine (.223/5.56m/m caliber only). Fired at distances from 25 to 75 yards. You will need 30 rounds of ammo. Strings of fire are at 25, 40, and 60 yards, and include standing, kneeling, and prone shooting positions.

Course Two

On the B Range is the 300-meter Pop-Up course. Shooters need a minimum of 20 rounds of ammunition (.223/5.56m/m only) to engage 20 aggressor targets at distances ranging from 50 to 300 meters.

Course Three

Rifle Position: Multi-position course of fire.

15 Rounds Rifle.

From 15 yards, the course of fire includes 5 rounds standing, 5 rounds kneeling, and 5 rounds prone. The shooter will make a magazine change from standing to kneeling, and from kneeling to prone.

The shooter will be required to target both body and headshots.

What to Bring

- Box lunch.
- Plenty of drinking water / sports drinks.
- Sunscreen.
- Hearing and eye protection MANDATORY
- Proper clothing MANDATORY – Long pants only - no shorts allowed, tight neck T-Shirt, and billed type ball cap to protect from hot brass.
- Knee Pads
- PLENTY OF AMMO - You can estimate the number of rounds you will need for each of the above courses of fire.
Recommendation: minimum of 300 rounds .223/5.56 m/m rifle.

Law enforcement officers from all ranks, divisions, and special assignments are encouraged to attend.
